How to complete a licensee search and / or check your license status from our website homepage

1. Visit our website at https://www.pepls.ms.gov/
2. Using your mouse, scroll down our website homepage until you see the following:

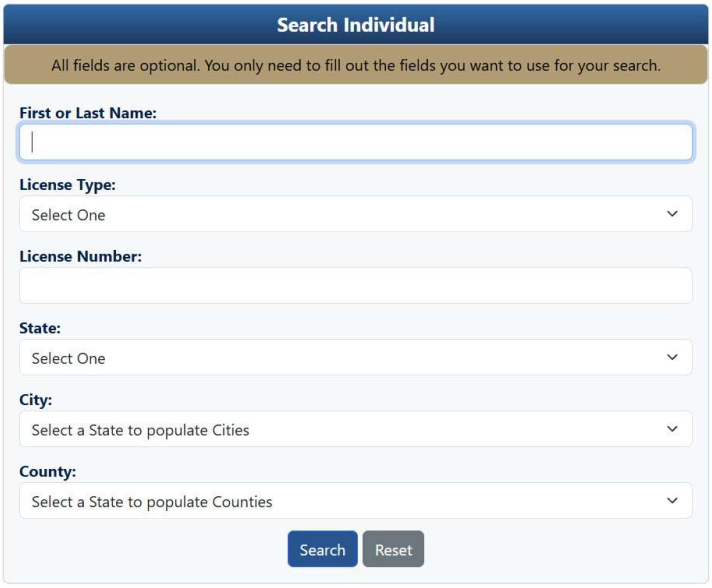
3. Click on Search Here

4. On the next screen, select either the individual (i.e., engineer or surveyor) or the Firm

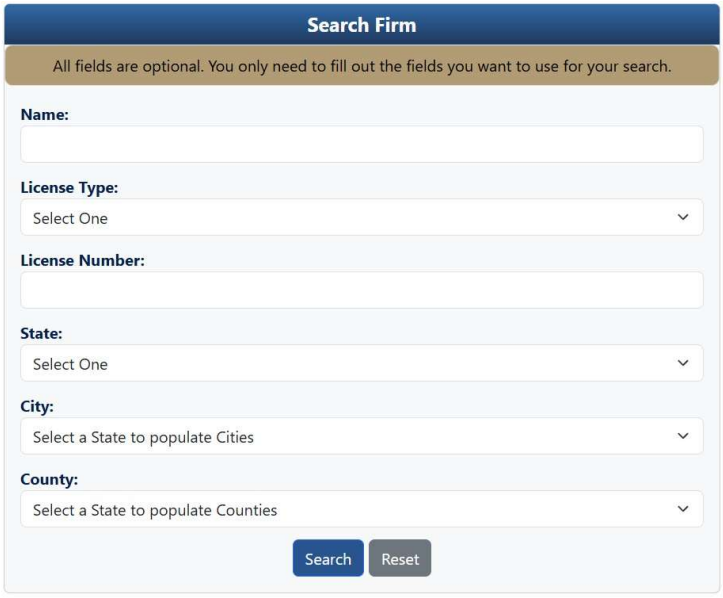
5. On the next screen enter up to two search criteria. We recommend just the first or last name of the individual or the firm name and then the license type. You can drill down your search by adding additional search criteria (state, city, and county), if needed.

How to complete a licensee search and / or check your license status from our website homepage

For individual (i.e. engineer or surveyor) searches



Or for Firms



6. Click search

Find your name or your Firm's name in the list produced by the search results and then proceed accordingly to review your license details, including your license expiration date.
